My Dad Is A Hero

By: Jack Kraemer

My dad is a hero to me and others as a truck driver. My dad is very important in carrying freight to multiple cities delivering more and more every day. My dad is always on time for work and he works very hard for 13 hours at night. He's a very safe driver achieving awards. He gets many safety awards, followed by 1st place trophies. My dad has been a part of the truck driving job for quite a long time.

My dad helps many schools and families by delivering goods to people. He delivers to Illinois and Wisconsin taking trips back and forth. My dad is a truck driver for XPO Logistics, reaching up to 1,000,000 safe miles in his semi. My dad helps pay for things we need with his money from work. He inspires me and other people in truck driving too. Over the years my dad has been getting better at trucking and at being a hero by never giving up and getting things to his customers.

He is also a hero by training many people to be a better truck driver. When he gets back home he's always exhausted. He's a good hero every night to customers, people in training, and co. workers. He likes being a hero, helping deliver things throughout the state. He's a really good and safe truck driving hero.

Safest truck driver hero

Ever!
