Why my dad is my truck-driving hero

My dad, Rodney Robbins, is a hero to me and others because he is an exceptional driver and father. He sometimes makes mistakes, but he has some hard decisions to decide upon and it can be hard to choose what is best for everyone.

Oh who am I kidding. Normal essays are boring to read and write.
I'm just gonna write a poem instead.

My dad is a hero because he is caring and fun.
The most important thing to him are his loved ones.
He never complains and is at the top of his game,
He is MY hero of troy, and he's won.

And its not just that my father is my hero,
He is cooler than absolute zero.
Out on the road or stuck tight in-doors,
In all his jobs he fights his own little wars

He has to carefully carry heavy loads,
And keep his trailers straight on the roads.
Or keep a straight face battling numbers as foes,
And making sure no one is hacking as he's typing in codes.

I miss my trucker more today than yesterday,
but not as much as tomorrow.
He is working to get his pay,
As he drives through tough terrains like rain and snow.

He doesn't complain about the little respect he gets,
And on my truckdriver, you can bet,
He will always get the job done,
And he wont be finished yet.

He travels our country to deliver,
Out in the cold while he drives he shivers,
Pulling 18-wheels along the highways,
He is always the best giver.

So my dear, dear daddy
Down all the highways you have to travel,
Down asphalt, stone, and even gravel,
On all the runs you have to do,
May Gods angels ride with you.

YOU ARE ALL OUR HEROS,
THANK YOU DRIVERS!!!
